

Online Community Culture

STEEL MAGS
SISTERHOOD

The Steel Mags Community exists to strengthen connection, support, and belonging among the women who stand beside the Green Berets.

This space is built on the same values that guide our sisterhood—respect, trust, resilience, and service to one another. Here, members are encouraged to share experiences, offer encouragement, exchange knowledge, and build meaningful relationships with others who understand the unique journey of military life.

Every voice matters, and every member contributes to the strength of this community. By showing kindness, listening with respect, and supporting one another, we create a welcoming environment where members can connect openly and authentically.

Together, we ensure that no Steel Mag walks this path alone.

Our Community Guidelines

Keep it friendly

Welcome new members, share helpful tips, and help others feel comfortable navigating the community. If you are new here, please introduce yourself—we're glad you're here and look forward to getting to know you.

Be respectful and kind

Our members come from many different backgrounds and experiences. Thoughtful discussion is encouraged, and respectful disagreement is part of healthy conversation. Please communicate with kindness and understanding.

Stay on topic

When starting a new discussion, choose a clear title and post in the most appropriate category. When replying to an existing conversation, try to stay on topic. If a new idea or question arises, feel free to start a new thread so others can easily join the discussion.

Share your knowledge

This community thrives when members share experiences, insights, and resources with one another. If you include information or links, please provide reliable sources whenever possible.

Look out for one another

A strong community is one that supports and protects its members. If you see content that seems inappropriate or concerning, please report it so it can be reviewed.

Forum Moderation

This platform is maintained by the Green Beret Foundation to support the Steel Mags community. To help keep the forum safe and constructive, moderators may edit, remove, or choose not to publish content that includes:

- Disrespectful or derogatory remarks
- Harmful, misleading, or distressing advice or information
- Offensive language or inappropriate content
- Personal attacks or harassment
- Discriminatory, racist, sexist, or otherwise offensive statements
- Content that violates the privacy of individuals
- Explicit, abusive, or sexually suggestive material
- Content that encourages harmful or dangerous behavior

Posts that are clearly unrelated to the community or disruptive to discussion may also be removed.

Our Shared Responsibility

While moderators help oversee the forum, this community works best when members support one another and help maintain the positive culture that defines Steel Mags.

Because conversations happen quickly & frequently, moderators may not immediately review every post. Your participation in keeping discussions respectful and constructive helps ensure the forum remains a trusted space for everyone.

Member Safety

If a post raises concerns about a member's or others' well-being, moderators may reach out privately to offer support.

In rare situations where safety may be at risk, we may need to share contact information with appropriate authorities or support services in order to help protect individuals involved.

For additional information, please contact:

Angela Abernethy
Steel Mags Program Manager
angela@greenberetfoundation.org

